

Author! Author!

Idaho Authors—
it's the classic
card game,
updated and customized
for the GEM STATE!

Noted novelist and illustrator
MARY HALLOCK FOOTE (1847-1938)
was also a source and subject for Wallace Stegner's prize-winning novel
Angle of Repose.

Wallpaper from EZRA LOOMIS POUND'S
home and birthplace in Hailey, Idaho (1895) provides the decorative pattern used on the backs of Idaho Authors cards.

Not to be confused with the original Authors

Who should play? Everyone – it's entertaining and educational – and it's all about Idaho's impressive literary heritage!

Play Idaho Authors, and you'll know who –

- was an Idaho city councilman, before he wrote Tarzan!
- inspired Star Wars!
- wrote the Newbery Prize-winning novel Caddie Woodlawn!
- has been called the most influential (and most controversial) 20th century American poet!
- is the only Nobel literature prize winner from the Pacific Northwest!
- and six other literary notables who were born in Idaho or came to the Gem State and called it home.

Idaho Authors, the card game,
it's another first from the Idaho
Center for the Book, an affiliate
of the Library of Congress
Center for the Book.
